Practical Information

Watches and straps

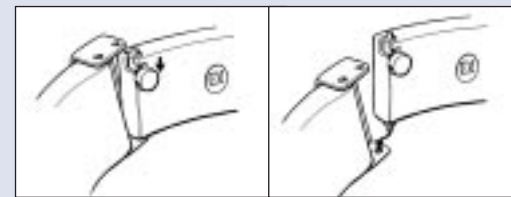

The strap motifs are simply pushed onto the straps first. In order to attach the straps to the watch head, the lever is opened downwards and the strap end slid onto the bar. The lever should close upwards with a click.

Assembling the bracelet

Insert Pin in lower hole first.

Push button down and swing upper end of Pin into place. Make sure it "clicks" home!

Product Care/Price List

Copper jewellery

Skin discolouration due to wearing a copper bracelet can easily be removed with warm water and soap or some lemon juice. If you don't require the effects of copper, you can apply transparent nail polish to the inside of the bangle in order to avoid discolouration. This will not affect the magnetic function.

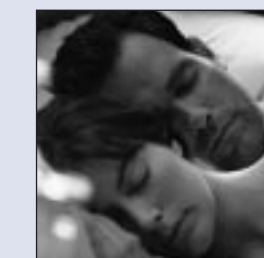

Pacemakers

Persons wearing a pacemaker should not wear magnetic products.

Jewellery care

Please be careful to keep your jewellery out of water. Hot water can occasionally loosen stones or magnets which are glue set. We therefore recommend removing jewellery when showering, bathing or during domestic work involving water. Hairspray, perfume, deodorant and cleaning materials can damage your jewellery.

Tips about wearing the jewellery

It is not necessary to wear the jewellery 24 hours a day. It is sufficient if you wear it during the day or evening.
